15th February, 1960.

Dear Sir,

Services

Thank you for your letter of the 4th February regarding the fee charged in the case of the "DEWDALE". This is considered reasonable and it should be pointed out to Messrs. Cosens & Company Limited that in all such cases it is the practice to base our fees on the extent of the services rendered and the time involved. The "DEWDALE" was at Portland and the survey, including travelling time, occupied a full day, whereas the "BROOMDALE", with which it is presumed they make comparison, was at Plymouth and was dealt with from the Plymouth Office.

Yours faithfully,

Assistant Secretary.

J. F. Nicholas, Esq.,
SOUTHAMPTON.
