Dear Sir,

M.S. "BRITAMER".

With reference to the exchange of telegrams in November last, regarding the intended voyage of this ship to Newcastle for Special Survey and repairs, we have now been approached by the Owners for confirmation that the vessel can be allowed to make the voyage without any Hull Special Survey items being dealt with. The Owners intend repairing the one boiler for the intended voyage as agreed in your telegram of 7th November, 1961.

We have informed the Owners that in view of the length of the lay up period an examination of the hull will no doubt be required before a certificate can be issued, for the voyage to Newcastle in ballast, ~~can be given.~~

We shall be pleased to have your comments as soon as possible regarding this matter.

Yours faithfully,
THE SURVEYORS,
Per

David L. Grant

The Secretary,
London.
