Dear Sir,

You will see that the Screwshaft Survey on the "ACHROITE," about which you wrote on the 10th May, is not due until July, 1963, and a ⁶⁴ docking on the ship was held as recently as March.

I have spoken to the Owners about their intentions with regard to the Special Survey due in July, and they say that at the moment they are rather uncertain about their further requirements. If they decide to keep the vessel in commission they will probably ask to be allowed to do a General Examination for deferment of Special Survey until next Spring. It may be, however, that they will sell or scrap the ship this year.

As soon as we have definite information on the case I will let you know.

Yours faithfully,

B. E. Seacock

Secretary to the Liverpool Committee.

The Secretary,
LONDON.
