

Mr. R. Maccoun re S.S. "BACCALIEU" etc.

The writer should be informed that all these ships were previously classed with this Society +100 A1 "Strengthened for navigation in ice" and the scantlings would therefore be suitable for the service indicated.

If the ship is to be reclassified a special survey in accordance with the Rules, for re-classification, would be required.

The Board of Trade would be responsible for the issue of any necessary passenger certificate, if the ship is to be British registered.

It might be added that the present Rule requirements would be applicable to the electrical installation, which would probably require considerable alterations.
