Dear Sir,

We have heard from Mr. F. Brooke Smith, who is acting as the Society's senior surveyor at Buenos Aires, of your visit to London, and Sir Ronald Garrett, our Chairman, desires me to say that he would be very pleased if you could give him the pleasure of your company at lunch here during your stay in this City.

Perhaps you would be good enough to telephone me in order that a mutually convenient date may be arranged?

Yours faithfully,

Secretary.

T. Horn, Esq.,
