

Mr. W.J. McAlister, the Chairman of the General Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., states that they have paid Messrs. Crabtree & Co., in full for the steamer "ROBIN" and have at present no hold on this Company. A new propeller is on order, however, and when this is delivered there will be a certain sum of money due to Messrs. Crabtree & Co., which will somewhat alter the state of affairs. Mr. McAlister thinks that in the circumstances no action can be taken by his Company at present, and that it would be better for this Society to press for the outstanding fees.
