12th February, 1908.

Gentlemen,

E. With reference to my letter of the 30th ultimo respecting the engines being constructed by The Vauxhall & West Hydraulic Engineering Co., for Messrs. Cook, Welton & Gemmell's No. 161 vessel, I regret to find that the Horse Power was calculated wrongly in this case, the correct figure being 71 and not 57 as stated in my previous letter.

I shall therefore be glad if you will render an amended account for £3-11-0 in respect of your survey of the main boiler.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

Secretary.

The Surveyors,

MIDDLESBROUGH.
