PORT OF IPSWICH,

14th November 1920.

Dear Sirs,

I have to inform you that the S.S. "BRANSTONE" built by Messrs Colby Bros., Lowestoft, has proceeded to the Tyne, and is to have the machinery installed by Messrs The Shields Engineering Co., I am given to understand that on the voyage to the Tyne, she put into Hartlepool for the purpose of getting her boiler.

To complete the first entry report on the hull, the deck casings require to be riveted, I am not quite sure if the deck stops for the rudder were fitted before the vessel sailed, will you please let me know.

Yours faithfully,

A. B. Farminer

The Surveyors,

NEWCASTLE-on-TYNE.
